

Travel and Tourism Research Association - Canada Chapter
Peter W. Williams PhD AWARD
Sponsored by the Research Resolutions & Consulting

- PURPOSE: The Peter W. Williams Award for the Advancement of Multi-Disciplinary Tourism Research encourages original contributions to the advancement of concepts or methodologies central to tourism research.
- AWARD: The winning student will receive a $3,000 prize, complimentary registration to the 2010 TTRA Canada annual conference, and up to $1,000 towards travel and accommodation (based on submitted receipts). The winner will attend the conference (October 13-15, Quebec City) and present a summary of his/her work.
- ELIGIBILITY: Applicants must be registered students in an eligible doctoral program at a Canadian university. Eligible disciplines include: economics, geography, psychology, statistics, or management. Tourism, leisure and recreation are considered "traditional" tourism research disciplines in the context of this award and as such are not eligible areas of study.
- REQUIREMENTS: Applicants must submit a copy of their approved and defended dissertation proposal along with a covering letter updating their progress on the dissertation. The deadline for receipt of entries is May 31, 2010, 5:00 p.m. PDT - Pacific Daylight Time).
- CRITERIA: Papers will be rated based on which submission is most likely to substantively advance the concepts or methodologies central to tourism research. The $3,000 award will be presented tri-annually, assuming a successful submission is received each year.
- SUBMISSION: E-Mail your submission in a PDF file using the subject heading: "TTRA Canada Peter W. Williams PhD Award" to the contact below.
- Submissions received after May 31, 2010 will not be considered.*
